Library loans

The campus library lends books for fourteen days. To renew a library loan, open your account, select Loans, then choose Renew before the due date. You may renew a book once if nobody else has reserved it. If the Renew button is unavailable, return the book at the service desk or ask a librarian for help.

Study rooms

Group study rooms can be booked in two-hour slots. Select a room, date and time in the booking calendar. The confirmation is available in your account under Reservations. If you no longer need a room, cancel the reservation so another group can use it.

Printing and scanning

Students can print documents from the computers near the entrance. Select the shared printer and release the job at the printer with your campus card. Scanning is available at the service desk. The scanner can save files in PDF format.

Opening hours

The library is open from Monday to Friday. During examination weeks the reading room stays open later. The service desk closes earlier than the reading room. Check the notice board by the entrance before planning an evening visit.
